

FRANK M. SNOWDEN JR. Undergraduate Scholarships

Summer funding for archaeological, language, and other classical summer programs for undergraduate students from historically underrepresented groups.

ABOUT THE SCHOLARSHIPS

The Committee on Diversity in the Profession of the Society for Classical Studies (SCS) invites applications from undergraduate students from historically underrepresented groups across North America for scholarships to be awarded for Summer 2024. Applicants must be enrolled in an undergraduate degree-granting program at the time of their application. The purpose of the scholarships is to further students' study of classics or classical archaeology with opportunities not available during the school year. Eligible proposals might include (but are not limited to) participation in classical summer programs or field schools in the Mediterranean or language training at institutions in the U.S., Canada, or Europe. Students interested in pursuing public engagement projects should apply to the Ancient World, Modern Communities program.

The Snowden Scholarships are not intended to fund coursework at applicants' own universities or colleges, and such requests will be funded only in very rare instances. The maximum amount of each Frank M. Snowden Jr. Scholarship will be $4,500.
