

A TRENDSETTING LATIN PROGRAM FOR COLLEGE

LATIN FOR THE NEW MILLENNIUM

Why choose between reading fluency and grammatical rigor?

LNM teaches students to read Latin with fluidity AND grammatical accuracy AND syntactical awareness.

Wouldn't you rather have students read Roman authors sooner?

LNM empowers students to read the rich culture AND the intellectual milestones of western thought, not just read about them.

LNM attracts students with its across-the-curriculum appeal: adapted and unadapted original Latin readings span the 2,500-year creative and humanizing continuum of western intellectual history—literature, philosophy, science, political thought—from Republican Rome to the twenty-first century.

Latin readings in Level 1 (first semester) introduce students to ancient Rome, from the comic playwright Plautus to the pious philosopher Boethius. Along the way they get first exposure to favorite authors like Caesar, Catullus, Cicero, Horace, Ovid, and Vergil.

Latin readings in Level 2 (second semester) have students traversing Europe as they read Latin authors of the Middle Ages and Renaissance—from Bede and Britain to Copernicus and heliocentrism. Classical Latin and first-century Rome are reinforced in each Level 2 chapter, with 264 lines of continuous, unadapted readings from Nepos' Life of Atticus in the text.

Do you want digital components for your Latin program?

LNM has the digital support available for both you AND your students:

- Digital choices for instructors: online social network, test and comprehension question banks, reproducible worksheets and maps, webinars, pdf versions of books FREE with hardcopy
- Digital aids and resources for students: flashcards for iPod and cell phones, eWorkbooks, audio recordings of Latin readings
